ROUGHAGE IS REDUCING DIETS

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Is Ideal Roughage

If you are following a reducing diet, it is doubly important that you take a regular amount of roughage into the system daily. Most reducing diets do not contain a sufficient amount of roughage. The result is constipation—thief of both health

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—in either the improved krumbled cereal or the new Biscuit form—is recommended by many doctors and dietitians because it contains the bulk necessary to insure proper elimination.

Also, because it contains the iron needed to help prevent anemia — another danger in reducing diets. ALL-BRAN is not fattening. Its bulk sweeps the system clean of poisonous wastes — helping to promote glorious health and beauty.

A popular way to eat Kellogg's ALL-Bran is soaked in fruit juice. Try it! It is delicious with milk or cream. Also sprinkle the krumbled ALL-BRAN over cereals, salads and soups. It adds flavor to cooked foods and is equally effective. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

"Antiquated" System Will Be Discarded.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—(P)—
Development of a group system of banking to replace the present "antiquated" unit system was forecast today as the "natural evolution" of the country's banking structure by E. W. Decker, president of the Northwest Bank Corporation, of Minneapolis, before the house banking committee.

Asserting that agricultural depression in the trade area served by his organization was the result, rather than the cause of the large number of bank failures in the last ten years, Decker said, "big business has come to stay and must have big banks to serve

Decker said, "big business has come to stay and must have big banks to serve its needs."

Small unit banks were entirely in-adequate to meet the requirements of agriculture and commerce, he added, after styling the failure of the unit system to meet the financial problems of the country as a "national dis-grace."

system to meet the financial problems of the country as a "national disgrace."

He disagreed with previous testimony by John W. Pole, comptroller of the currency, and Governor Roy A. Young, of the federal reserve board, that a branch bank system restricted to clearly defined trade areas was the best solution for the present day financial needs. Decker contended that public opinion, at least in his section, was "unalterably opposed" to branch banks.

This opposition was based on the fear of local business interests that under the branch system, "hired men" would be delegated by the parent bank to operate the branch in their locality and that they might have difficulty in securing loans when needed. The question of local pride and local responsibility also entered into the situation, he added.

The witness said, however, that because of low operating costs, branch banks might prove the most practical solution for the financial problem of the "town too small to sustain a unit bank and still large enough to warrant banking facilities." This statement was coupled with a prediction that a system of branches might be developed in their respective communities by members of group systems as an economic method of supplying the needs of the smaller towns.

The advantage of the group systems.

supplying the needs of the group system, as developed by the institution of which he is the head and which is the holding company for a group of almost 100 banks, Decker said, was that the member banks retained their individuality, with local management and responsibility.

Largest Diamond Placed on View In Duty Hearing

court room of the United States court of customs and patent appeals.
Carried in a small black case, the 78 carat diamond was placed in exhibition amidst the admiring gasps of an audience of smartly gowned women who were given a close-up view of the famous jewel when the court briefly recessed.

Valued at between $60,000 and $80,000, the great white stone, large enough to make 75 ordinary diamond engagement rings, glittered in the dim court room light as its facets caught and reflected the rays that penetrated the high casement windows. It is pearshaped, resembling a crystal pendent, and as large as a small hen's egg.

Dull legal briefs and long-winded legal arguments over whether the pre-cious stone is an "artistic antiquity" were forgotten as court and specta-tors alike gazed on the beautiful ob-ject. Its history dates back to far antiquity in East India, where it was discovered as the eye of a temple

Senate Passes Harris Highway Aid Measure

WASHINGTON, April 15 .- (Special.)—The senate today passed the bill by Senator W. J. Harris, of Georgia, authorizing an appropriation of $506,067.50 for the reconstruction of federal aid highways and bridges in Georgia which were destroyed or injured by flood conditions of last year.

Under the terms of the bill the funds are made available subject to the condition that the state of Georgia spends an equal amount on the reconstruction, the total cost of which has been estimated at $1,012,135 by officials of the United States bureau

The bill now goes to the lower house, where an identical measure, offered by Representative Carl Vinson, of Georgia, is pending. Representative Vinson said today he hoped to get final action within a short time.

Such a proposal had been under consideration by Mr. Philp at one time but Senator Harris was informed it has never been considered very seriously. In any event, the proposal has been rejected and the department heads, in charge of the federal building program, are now more convinced heads, in charge of the federal building program, are now more convinced than ever that the people of Atlanta will never consent to the construction of anything other than a monumental structure in keeping with the dignity of the federal government and the importance of federal activities concentrated in the city.

The amount of increase to be recommended will depend some that on the cost of the site and the type of structure later agreed upon.

Mr. Philp reiterated his intention to recommend the increase and told Senator Harris this phase of the situation would enter into the discussions at Atlanta.

Whether the government will accept Whether the government will accept a plan proposed in Atlanta for locating the building on a site which would later be connected up by a viaduct to be constructed by the city will also figure in the Atlanta conferences, it was said. # To Exceed Europa Size

LONDON, April 15.—(A)—The recently announced new liner of the Cunard Company, as described today by the shipping paper, Syren and Shipping, will be a three-funneled vessel 1,000 feet long on the waterline with a 115-foot beam.

She will be designed to have a speed over a measured mile of 32 knots. She will carry first, second and tour-ist class passengers and immigrants. Practically all the first-class state-rooms will have bathrooms attached while a novel feature will be a double-tiered smoking room with a balcony.

The North German liner Europa, which now holds the record of four days and 17 hours for a crossing of the Atlantic, has a length of 935 feet and a width of 101.6 feet. During her trial runs she developed 27.67 knots and on her maiden voyage to the United States she averaged 27.91 length.

New GILLETTE BLADE RAZOR

SHORTEN your daily shaving time; no more wiping-no more cut towels

YOUR WORK ends when your shave ends, with this New Gillette Blade and Razor. Simply turn guard at right angles, re-tighten, rinse under hot running water and shake dry.

Think what this means. Think of the time and temper saved. No more cut towels! No more tedious fiddling with razor parts that always seem to find the drain pipe.

This one improvement alone is worth the price of the New Gillette. Yet it is only one of many pleasing changes that you will find in this new razor and blade.

"Razor pull," for instance, won't bother you any more. "Razor pull," Gillette engineers found, is caused by nicks and dents that are put in the corners of a razor when it is dropped. In a precision instrument such as

THE NEW GILLETTE RAZOR, 24K. gold plated, Case, complete with New Gillette Blade . . PRICE Other De Luxe models at $5.00 to $75.00 the Gillette, the smallest dent is enough to throw the blade out of perfect alignment, to make it "pull."

The New Gillette prevents "pull" for two reasons: First, the corners of the razor are reinforced with sturdy lugs of extra metal that stand a lot of abuse. Second, even if you should dent these lugs the blade is no longer held at the corners, so no harm results from dropping. Look at the new blade, and note how the corners are cut out.

The old center posts are gone. They stuck through the blade and accidentally caught and dulled the blade edges. Notice how the guard teeth are rounded back farther to meet the skin more smoothly, more comfortably. Please note, too, that the new blade-ends are square, not round, for safer handling with wet fingers. These ends shave closer around the tight little corners of mouth, nose and ears.

The price of the New Gillette Razor, 24K. gold plated, cased in a beautiful box, and equipped with New Gillette Blade, is one dollar. The New Gillette Blade is one dollar for ten and 50c for five.

Don't wait a minute to enjoy the comfort of this new and perfect shave. Visit the nearest Gillette dealer today.

BERMAN TO ASK PRIMARY LAW CHANGE.

Revision of state laws governing primary elections, in so far as Atlanta is concerned, will be asked of the special session of the Georgia legislature if Governor Hardman does not issue his call before Monday and he acquiesces to a petition which will be filed that day in council by Councilman Joseph E. Berman, of the fourth ward.

filed that day in council by Councilman Joseph E. Berman, of the fourth ward.

The petition is to the governor and requests that the chief executive place consideration of the primary revision in the call for the special session.

At the same time Council Berman declared that he will support the proposal of Ed A. Gilliam, alderman from the twelfth ward, seeking to reduce council to a body of 18 members, instead of having 39 as at present.

Mr. Gilliam proposes to nominate and elect one councilman from each of the 13 wards of Atlanta and then to divide the borough into aldermanic quadrants from which one alderman would be elected. Another alderman would be elected under the proposal from the borough at large. All council members and aldermen would be nominated and elected, under the Gilliam paper, by vote of the entire electorate of the borough.

Major features of the Berman proposal would be to place the primaries of Atlanta under the state law, providing for appeals from contests to the superior courts of cities in which the primary is held. Another provision excludes all cities or boroughs in which there is not a population of

ANTI-DRY LOBBYING.
WASHINGTON, April 15.—(P)—
A denial that the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment had ever engaged in the "doubtful luxury" of lobbying in Washington was contained in a letter to Chairman Caraway, of the senate lobby committee, written and made public today by its president, Henry H. Curran.

FINANCING VOLSTEAD. WASHINGTON, April 15.—(P)—F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, asserted in a statement tonight that a charge that his organization had paid the campaign expenses of Andrew J. Volstead was "false."

"The statement of Congressman "The statement of Congressman Tinkham before the senate lobby investigating committee this morning charging that the Anti-Saloon League of America had paid the campaign expenses of Andrew J. Volstead, as a representative from Minnesota, sponsored the prohibition enforcement legislation.

"In the first place, McBride continued, "the Anti-Saloon league did not at any time pay Mr. Volstead's campaign expenses. In the second place, the campaign in which Mr. Tinkham charges the expenditures were made was in November, 1920, at least a year after the Volstead act was passed.

You are after the lobbyists, located in and around Washington' by the terms of the resolution under which you were appointed. But we have no such lobby or lobbyists. Nor do I believe that we shall ever indulge in such a doubtful luxury."

He asserted the association had done nothing about the Jones law, the Sheppard bill nor the Wickersham commission measures, "although the Anti-Saloon league and the Methodist board of prohibition morals and other dry organizations undoubtedly lobby for those measures in and around Washington."

Beyond an "occasional state legislative contest," he said, "our association is engaged solely in assembling reliable information to the American people and upholding in political contests—away from Washington and back in the states—the candidacies of those who are in sympathy with the objects of this association.

"That is what we do and that is what we are going to do until the 18th amendment is repealed, which I think will take place in about five years."

The decision, handed down by the court along with 36 others, all of minor nature, stated that no exception to the charge of the court was noted, and that no complaint was made as to any ruling. The evidence was largely circumstantial, the court stated, but none gave reason for a change of the verdict.

Bush was convicted of the murders of Wiley Wiggins and Ollie Moreland, whom he had married the afternoon of the killing. The Wiggins negro, it was said, had been living with the Moreland woman.

Directors Named.

Prior to the directors' meeting, the members of the association heard reports from officers and a new board of directors was elected. The members' meeting followed the district gatherings of members held in the ten cotton districts on April 12, one director being named by each district. At the annual meeting the members ratified the district meetings, electing the following directors: L. A. Dean, Rome: W. F. Byrd, Dallas; B. L. Redwine, Madras; C. A. Addington, Lavonia; Dr. George E. Youmans. Sr., Adrian; J. H. Avret, Farmdale; Fred W. Hodges, Oliver; E. T. Barnes, Dublin; J. M. Council, Americus, and H. A. Petty, Dawson.

In addition to the above ten directors, the association has one director from at large which place is filled by J. E. Conwell.

In his report to the members' meeting, General Manager Conwell said that during the present season, 1929-1930, the association had received more than 120,000 bales of cotton, which is the largest delivery for any one season in the history of the organization. Continuing he stated:

4,000 Farmers Added.

"We have added to our membership this year, approximately 4,000 of our most progressive and substantial farmers in the state. Our loans to farmers for producing crops, through the Growers' Finance Corporation, affiliated with the Cotton Association, already amount to approximately $1.000,000 for this season, and our fertilizer sales not only for the present season, but for each year since the Growers' Supply Company was organized, have been very satisfactory.

"Through this service, we have enabled our members to secure qua

Just which of the indictments will be called to trial remained as mysterious as the plans for the city clerk's defense Tuesday night. The bribery bill contains 16 counts, the extortion bill 9 counts and the fraud bill 1 count in which Taylor is jointly accused with Fred Wilson, a merchant. Those in close touch with the state's side of the case believe it certain that the bribery bill will be called, but Solicitor-General Boykin had "nothing to say" in that regard.

These affidavits, it is said, blame the newspapers, alleging that the city clerk could not obtain a fair trial in Fulton county is the week of the counting of the city. Woman Risks Life
To Save Ducklings

When the home of D. Platkin, at 1020 Piedmont avenue, burst into flames early Tuesday morning Mrs. Platkin's first thought, when she was aroused, was of a brood of baby ducks in the kitchen.

She tried to go to their rescue

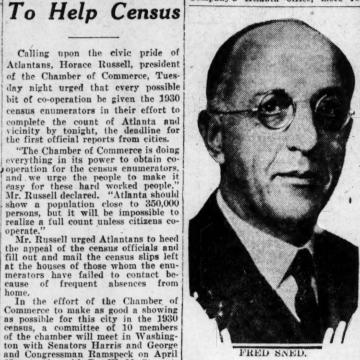

While flames crackled but was forcibly taken from the house. No sooner had her escort released her, however, than she ran back into the blazing house screaming: "I want my ducks!"

Before the fire department could halt her she had braved the burning walls, singed her hair and burned her tace badly. But she staggered out of the kitchen with a box containing eight of the ten ducklings.

An overheated cook stove caused the fire, which partially destroyed the house.

merators have failed to contact because of frequent absences from home.

In the effort of the Chamber of Commerce to make as good a showing as possible for this city in the 1930 census, a committee of 10 members of the chamber will meet in Washington with Senators Harris and George and Congressman Ramspeck on April 28 to confer with Dr. W. M. Steuart, director of the census. The committee will ask that Atlanta be enumerated as composed under the net of the 1929 legislature, which created the Greater Atlanta metropolitan area, Mr. Russell said. Opinions of the attorney general of Georgia and of the city attorneys of the incorporated municipalities in Greater Atlanta will be presented to Dr. Steuart.

The majority of unlisted Atlantanians include residents of apartment houses where members of the families work during the day and generally are away from home during the evenings, according to Dr. Elizabeth Broach, census supervisor for this district. Where the enumerators have failed to find persons at home, blanks containing the necessary questions have been left for the residents to fill out and mail to the census supervisor. Numbers of persons have failed to comply with the request and are in danger of being left out of the census count, it was said.

Information given the census enumerators is held by the government in strict confidence, as it is used for statistical purposes only, and is not available to the department, prohibition bureau, tax officials, or others, it was pointed out. The census act provides for criminal action against persons refusing to give information to the enumerators.

The "plural" birth statistics of the state department of health show that in 1929 there were in this state 679 sets of twins and 12 sets of triplets. The girls outnumbered the boys in both the twins and triplets.

The records show that in the case of twins, there were 667 girl babies born compared with 618 boys. The triplets chalked up 22 girls and only 11 boys.

HOOVER AND WORLD COURT.

The speech of President Hoover to the Congress of Daughters of the American Revolution was conventional in terms and tone, revealing no novelty of policies and exciting no alarm over threatened innovations upon American sentiment.

It bears the assurance that within all calculable liabilities the defensive preparedness of the nation will be maintained with as little burden as possible upon the revenues taken from the people. In that much it is a block-signal to ultra pacificists thousands of the children ought to who urge for a stripped and hogtied nation to go slow with their phrenetic propaganda. And for that attitude the president will have the cordial support of the country.

On the subject of our entry into the World Court the president speaks with convictions, yet with due caution. For himself he is convinced that the United States should join the international court for the adjudication of those justiciable issues between ourselves and other people that do not yield readily to diplomacy or present any direct casus belli. As to that, there is a large majority favor among the people, evidenced by the senate approving in 1927 the court protocol pro vided certain safeguarding reservations were accepted by the signa-

Some of our shining lights in the profession do not know this. They assure the patient that the source of the trouble is in the tonsils, but owing to one thing or another an operation is out of the question. Then they dismiss the patient with pretty cold sympathy. I have before me a letter from a lady 73 years of age who had just such cold sympathy from a famous physician. Expected Cut in Price of Export and Domestic Copper Arrives—Sugar Supplies Continue To Pile Up— Stock Market's Activity, in View of Con-

Well, copper prices toppled vester day from 18 to 14 cents a pound just as the news came out that the Phelps-Dodge Corporation, the Calumet & Arizona Mining Company and the Nickels Copper Company had merged into a $350,000,000 organization, the third largest copper producer in the world.

Copper leaders have tried to maintain prices, but with more than a billion pounds of copper on hand-about half year's supply—the thing couldn't be done. So the drop has Digging into the figures furnished by the United States bureau of mines and the department of commerce, we find that the United States' production for 1929 is estimated at 1,015,000 tons; while the United States' consumption was approximately 1,078,500 tons, almost an ideal balance.

But the United States imported 487,156 tons, mostly from the copper mines in Chile, owned by the Anaconda and Kennecott companies.

Why We Have Poor Government. Here in Georgia we cannot reasonably expect to have good government so long as 87 per cent of our eligible voters ignore the issues of elections and stay away from the polls.

We have had in the state a government chosen by 13 per cent of those eligible to qualify as voters—in other words 7 per cent of those who did vote were majority and determined the government and determined the government state. The United States consumes just about half of the copper produced in the world. Of the total production for 1929—2,136,021 tons—the United States consumed about half of it, leaving a little over a million tons for the rest of the world. were majority and determined the gov-ernment and legislation of the state! "The copper mines of Chile "The copper mines of Chile and South Africa can produce and lay down copper in New York harbor at about 6 cents a pound. No American copper mine can begin to do that. With no tariff on copper today, these foreign mines could flood the American market, and cause every copper mine in the United States to close down and thousands of American workmen to be thrown out of work. A Great Hope Is Arising.

Just now there is a great hope born of the State's present shame, arising throughout the commonwealth that the throughout the commonwealth that the people—the great commonality who suffer most from evil, extravagant, oppressive government, because the least able to bear its burdens—are awaking workmen to be thrown out of work. So sugar stocks in the United States, Cuba, France and Netherlands are particularly heavy. Says the United States government:

"Visible stocks at the beginning of the present sugar season at all United States ports, Canada, Cuba, the Philippine Islands, Java and nine important sugar producing countries of Enrope, were more than 700,000 short tons in excess of stocks at the beginning of the 1928-29 sugar campaign."

World consumption has not kept up with world production. Hence the lower prices. In New York the average wholesale price of raw sugar was of the backers of this movement call for raising $7,000,000 over the United "Georgia"s allotment of this expense amounts to $45,037.60," he said in a statement given out from Atlanta er states is equally pro-rated and age wholesale price of raw sugar was 3.8 cents for the year 1929, as compared with 4.2 cents for 1928, the lowest year in sugar history, excepting only 1913, when it dropped to 3.5 cents a pound. On April 10 the price was 3.61 cents a pound. Yesterday refineries offered a new low of 3.39

"When sugar refineries learn to stroy prices—we'll all do better, Oth-erwise nothing but chaos is in store for us," said Rudolph Spreckles, presi-dent of the Spreckels Sugar Refiping Company, to me yesterday,

In spite of two unfavorable factors -higher British income tax demands and a sharp reduction in copper prices—the stock market came back prices—the stock market came back strong yesterday and gave a better account of itself at the end of the session than it did at the beginning. Before noon it looked as though an organized selling campaign was on to force prices down to lower levels. The organized selling campaign was on to force prices down to lower levels. The bear leaders were encouraged by the copper price drop, which was announced early.

But the selling dried up before noon and aggressive buying began again in many of the leaders like Westinghouse, United States Steel, American Can and General Electric.

Even copper stocks showed up well—Anaconda, holding its own. showed no change for the day and closed at 71 1-2 on a turnover of 156,000 shares; Kennecott, nearly as well, closely only 1-4 of a point off from the day before on a turnover of 80,000 shares. Nevada Consolidated closed at 26 1-2, off less than a point on a 25,000-share turnover.

The activity in the market, in view of conditions, is surprising. March showed total sales of 96,826,120 shares, only slightly under the record of last year. April is keeping up almost to last year's record.

But the surprise of yesterday's market was the rally of the coppers in view of the 4-cent drop in the price.

Sand-Tons of It Albany J. P. Loses

Opera in Atlanta day settled a controversy as to who Officials of the Music Festival As-

Officials of the Music Festival Association Tuesday placed an order for several tons of sand—plain sand, such as is used in building houses and pavements. It is needed in producing grand opera. And how!

The scenery used by the Metropolitan Opera Company is massive and heavy. The back-drop curtain used in the third act of "Louise" for instance, weighs a ton or so, with all its lighting effects, the Eiffel tower in the background and the illuminated streets of Paris.

To balance the weight of the scenery, hung from frames high above the auditorium stage, heavy sandbags are used. There have been instances where one of them broke loose and nearly "beaned" some high-priced tenor or soprano.

The Metropolitan has shipped say.

MAUSTON, Wis., April 15.—(P)—Lyall Wright, ousted "boy sheriff" of Juneau county, was bound over for preliminary hearing on a murder charge today a few minutes after a coroner's jury refused to name him as the assassin of Clinton G. Price, district attorney.

The jury deliberated only 44 minutes before returning a verdict that Price had died Monday from gunshot wounds inflicted four hours before by a man unknown, who fired on the district attorney as he stood in the kitchen of his home. Wright entered no plea when he was arraigned. Preliminary hearing was set for April 22.

liminary hearing was set for April 22.

At the inquest, Sheriff Edward Hempelman and his deputies repeated their stories of gathering the circumstantial evidence which caused Wright's arrest. They told how a trail of stains believed by them to be blood, led from the rear of Price's home to Wright's home. Doctors testified the ex-sheriff had a severed artery in his right hand, which would cause the blood to spurt forth.

Defense attorneys let it be known that they may seek a sanity hearing for Wright. It was recalled today that Governor Fred R. Zimmerman, after removing Wright from office in 1928, had suggested such a hearing. Sheriff Hempelman said his prisoner has been extremely nervous and has been talking incoherently ever since he was jailed.

Georgia Clock, Taken by Yanks, To Be Returned

WASHINGTON, April 15 .- (Spe cial.)-After the expiration of 67 years an old grandfather clock which adorned the mansion of a Georgia coastal plantation during the Civil War is to be returned to heirs of the owner by descendants of a Massachusetts Union soldier, into whose hands it fell following a raid on the plantation by a federal gunboat in 1863.

hands it fell following a raid on the plantation by a federal gunboat in 1863.

The return of the ancient timepiece, now declared to be more valuable than ever before because of its antique qualities, will be the occasion of official ceremonies on May 6 when a delegation of 25 citizens of Attleboro, Mass., headed by the mayor, will go to Brunswick for that purpose.

Details of the discovery of the clock and plans for its return were made public here today after Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, received a communication from Howard E. Coffin, of Sapelo Island, asking him to attend the Brunswick ceremonies as the representative of the state. The Georgia senator accepted the invitation.

As related here, an antique dealer in Massachusetts recently while examining the clock found pasted in its rear compartment an old inscription stating that the timepiece had been taken in a raid on King's plantation by members of the crew of the gunboat Ethan Allen, which put into port at St. Simon's Island January 10, 1863, where the plantation was located. One of the members of the crew carried the clock back to his Massachusetts home. It has remained there ever since.

GOODRICH LEARNS MORE.

Offhand, I can think of no young man trying to get along in this world who is absorbing more professional learning than Ted Goodrich, the Atlanta welterweight.

Ted, toiling modestly back here in the Cotton Belt, developed a murderous right-hand punch with which he began knocking out whomsoever he faced.

Ted knocked out two top-notchers: Farmer Joe Cooper and Joe Dundee. Then he signed to fight Sergeant Sammy Baker, a boy rated in the first five of the division, here April 22.

Meanwhile Ted, looking for a little extra spending money and a measure of fame, went to Chicago Monday to fight Duke Tramel, a boy he already had licked here. Duke was ill and they substituted a tough egg named Tommy Rios on Ted. Rios weighed six or seven pounds more than Ted.

From all accounts of the affair, Ted was nervous over his first appearance in a big city. Furthermore, he had never met a boy like Rios, who did nothing but throw punches at him. Rios did all the leading and Ted was used to that sort of fighting himself. Ted, it seems, has never learned how to counter-

The result was that Ted worked 10 rounds trying to land a knockout punch and woke up at the end of the fight with the short end of the decision

No doubt the Atlantan learned plenty just as he did when he lost that decision to old Jack Britton here a year or so ago. He should be all the better prepared to fight the canny Sammy Baker here for his unpleasant experience.

One of the many requests received at this desk each day for Chester Horton's monographs on various golf problems should be printed by all means. It says:

When one contemplates the feat of the 60 years of age gentlemen, one is deeply impressed by the long patient training he must have undergone to reach championship form.

But one is still more deeply impressed with the amazing feat of being able to hold the championship for three years. Fortunately the old gentleman did not attempt his

The uncle would have been just a brave memory after winning the championship on the stuff they have on this side.

Tigers Come Here Seeking Victory Following Defeats By Georgia.

With four victories in six starts in conference games the Georgia Tech nine will play Abburn this afternoon in the first of two games. The Jackets recently lost three games to Oglethorpe, but since the Petrels are not in the conference the losses will not count against Tech.

Auburn in three games this season has not looked so good. The Painsmen have a much better team than their record indicates and once they get started it will be too bad for some conference foes.

The pitching in the recent Georgia series was not what Coach Fred Sheridan had expected and the games were lost. The infield held its own and the outfield hit well, but Georgia likewise outfield hit well, but Georgia likewise hit well.

Coach Clay has not announced his starting lineup at present, but it is expected to be the same as lined up against Oglethorpe, with either Strickland or Mitchum as the pitching selection for today.
Auburn's choice will most likely be Ray Prim. He is the Plainsmen's best bet, although he was decidedly off in the series with Georgia.
Today's game will be the first of 11 out of the next 12 to be played on foreign soil by the Plainsmen.

Tigers Seek Tech Victory.

AUBURN, Ala., April 15.—Coach Fred Sheridan's Plainsmen will attempt to again enter the Southern conference win column on the diamond Wednesday and Thursday when the Tech Yellow Jackets are hosts to the Tigers in Atlanta in a two-game series. Two other games will also he series. Two other games will also be played by the Bengals this week, as they meet Slick Moulton's Lindale Pepperels in Auburn Friday afternoon and in Lindale Saturday.

Peppereis in Audurn Friday afternoon and in Lindale Saturday.

For three successive games the Plainsmen have not looked very good. The final tilt with the Montgomery Lions and the duet of games with the University of Georgia Bulldogs are the battles in which the Bengals failed to play the brand of ball that they are capable of playing.

The best games played by the Sheridan proteges this season have been away from home, as they have failed to show much of their batting power in the tilts on Drake field. The lone games with Fort Benning, Birmingham Baron yannigans, Selma Cloverleafs and Montgomery Lions on foreign fields were all games which saw the 1928 Southern conference baseball champions displaying more strength, both at bat and in the field, than they have shown in any of the frays played here. Since 11 of the next 12 contests are on every frays played here. Since 11 of the next 12 contests are on enemy grounds, Coach Sheridan expects his team to stop playing mediocre base-ball and develop into a winning combination once again.

The pitching in the Georgia games did not come through as expected, partly because Prim and Carter were not given sensational support like the Bulldogs gave Chandler and Murdock.

Work of Crackers

Pleases Manager CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 15.—Johnny Dobbs, while he was greatly disappointed at the loss of the opening game today declared that he was proud of the manner in which the team hustled. The Crackers were on their toes all the way and won favorable comment from the Chattanooga fans.

They got five runs in eight innings and got but seven hits. They employed a sacrifice with beautiful skill in the fourth to get Dick Burrus to third after he had doubled. He scored on the next ball, a sacrifice fly.

Johnny Dobbs' smart old noggin was very much in evidence in the ball game. He directed the game with masterful skill and he met defeat in the end through forces over which he had no control. He yanked Red Oldham at the exact moment he should have been yanked, sticking in Jok Kiefer to halt what looked like arally.

GREAT FIELDING.

GREAT FIELDING.

The Crackers played gallant baseball in the field. One Frank Walker, the gray-eyed man of destiny, rushed in to the crowd in center field to take a ball that Elliott Bigelow hit, there. Only Walker's up-stretched arms could be seen. Jimmy Johnston dashed into the crowd to take a pon foul near the Cracker bench and did arms could be seen. Jimmy Johnston dashed into the crowd to take a poptional part the Cracker bench and did not flinch even though some playful fan shied a cushion at him. No one thought anything else, of course, but these Lookouts have a ball club that fits their park. They have hitting power. Elliott Bigelow, who was such an acute pain in the neck to the pitching fraternity two seasons ago while with Birmingham, was just as much of a pain today, if not more so. He was walked purposely on two occasions.

The trouble with that bit of strategy, however, is that Lamotte follows him, and he is the same old Lamotte. He has made more rival clubs positively ill with hits in the pinch than most men.

ALL BOTHERED.

Chet Howard started for the Lookouts. He is just a country boy and the big crowd had him worried. The beating of so many sound waves threw his curve ball off stride. He walked three men in the first inning after Rosenthal had singled to open it. That forced in a run. Lamotte's error on Diek Burrus' grounder brought in another run.

The Lookouts pecked away at Red Oldham's offerings in the first inning. Fast play kept two Lookout singles and a double down to just one run in that inning.

Fast play kept two Lookout singles and a double down to just one run in that inning.

In the third Oldham struck out Mathews to open things up. The next three men—Dashiell, Gooch and Bigelow—singled. One run was in. Dobbs pulled out Oldham and Kiefer caused Lamotte to roll a slow one to Bader, who completed the double play via Sheehan and Burrus.

COUNT IS TIED.

The Crackers tied it up in the fourth when Dick Burrus opened with one of those doubles into the crowd. That's when Bader's sacrifice bunt and Yelle's sacrifice fly scored him.

Chattanooga tied in the fifth. Mathews walked. The next two men were outs. Bigelow was walked purposely and Lamotte pushed one into the right field crowd for two bases to score Mathews. And there she stayed until the seventh when the

Happy Days Are Here Again

Upset Pennant Races.

Baseball stepped away to one of its gaudiest openings in spite of the fact that practically every one concedes the pennant to the Athletics and Cubs. But these two clubs still have to prove their official status to the crowd, and the crowd knows that October is a long way off and that earthquakes, tidal waves and cyclones can appear in that space of time. The crowd remembers many upsets. In 1906 Cleveland and one or two other favorites were all rated high and the rating still held until July. At this juncture the lowly White Sox, back in seventh place with a team batting average of .221 at the time, suddenly lost control of themselves and won 19 straight ball games and the pennant.

After 1906 the Cubs looked unbeatable. They won 116 ball games that year and set a record. They romped away in 1907 and 1908. Everyone picked them to repeat in 1909 but the Pirates upset the dope with something to spare when Howard Camnitz, the Kentucky rosebud, won over thirty games.

The Athletics won in 1910 and 1911, and in 1912 they were as highly favored as Mack's team is today. But they didn't win. Jake Stahl's Boston Red Sox led them to the wire. In 1914 the Braves were either last or seventh in July with the Giants a sure thing. The Braves not only spun around to win the National league pennant race, but they mauled the Athletics in four straight games.

These things happen in baseball. They may not happen this summer, but the ever-vulnerable dope may blow up at any moment and upset every prediction made. It is this uncertainty which keeps hope flaming in the baseball breast, for a while at least.

Still Champion.

An even surer bet than either Cubs or Athletics is a young lady by the name of Helen Wills Moody—Mrs. now in place of Miss.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody unfurled her tennis racket at Forest Hills this week with a preliminary flourish on her way back to Europe, and once more she looked to be far and away the best woman tennis player in the world today. She is possibly the safest of all the United States' athletic defenders in the coming-international turmoil. Even safer than Bobby Jones, for tennis is a game that runs much truer to form than golf does.

If A is a better tennis player than B, then A is almost certain to win when the two meet. But if A is a better golfer than B there is no great certainty that A will win on a given day, provided the gap between the two isn't too wide.

On his last visit to England and Scotland, Bobby Jones crushed Cyril Tolley and Robert Harris, supposed to be two of Great Britain's best. But a young golfer by the name of Jamieson, unheralded and unsung, upset Bobby by 4 and 3.

No such reversal happened to Helen Wills on her trip abroad. She went on beating everybody and most of the time without much work. There could have been no such upset in tennis as the last golf championship showed when young Goodman beat Jones in the first round. If an unseasoned kid should retire Henri Cochet from the next tennis championship, they would probably wait on the motion pictures of the match to be sure it had

Mrs. Moody is still hitting the ball with all her old control and power. This control and power isn't so old, at that. It still has a number of years to run. She dominates her field with a wider margin than any other champion in sport.

The Mountain Approaches.

Primo Carnera, the Man Mountain, draws nearer and nearer to the Mahomet of solid gold. He keeps pushing the hat racks over and they topple usually with one shove, as state boxing commissions hold investigations and gnash their official molars.

But this doesn't alter the fact that the monumental Italian is on his way to a big financial killing which is entirely too large to be over-The fact that he has proved nothing about his real fighting ability so far means nothing at all. When he steps into the ring against some good fighter the surrounding landscape will be packed with eager and palpitating humanity.

Result of Bout Causes Near Riot; Fans Shout "Fake;" Man Hurt.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—(P) Boxing circles buzzed today as the state athletic commission started to investigate the heavyweight bout last night in Oakland between the giant Italian, Primo Carnera, and Leon Che alier, San Francisco negro.

Carnera won on a technical knockout in the sixth round but the sudden and unexpected ending did not set well with spectators who started a small riot.

The commission's plans were to determine why Bob Perry, one of Chevalier's seconds, tossed in a towel thereby signalizing defeat for the negro. Chevalier was in not much worse condition than his huge opponent at the time. Perry, hired for the eve-ning, had no authority to throw in a towel, even if Chevalier had actually been in distress. Only the chief sec-ond is permitted to terminate bouts in that manner.

Infuriated spectators attacked Perry and severely beat him while many of Carnera's own countrymen mounted chairs and shouted "fake" and demanded that the bout be resumed. Carnera's end of the purse totaling $13,239, and Chevalier's $1,500 were

The playing field was completely lined by temporary stands and the crowd was sitting on the grass five deep. Horizontally, not vertically. They had a motto here for this game which read: "Opening day is closing day." And it was. At 2 o'clock this afternoon it was impossible to buy anything in Chattanooga.

They staged a grand parade before the game in which everyone participated. The schools were out and the students and their bands were marching. It was a parade such as stirred Hopkinsville and other such hamlets in the days when Harrison and Tyler were running for office. out of the fire. Joe Engel, in the Johnny Dobbs gave the Crackers a talk before they went out on the field. After the discussion of the hitters on the Cracker club and their weaknesses, Johnny gaid. "All right, let's get out there and turn on the heat today. It will be tough on the crowd, but we can lick this bunch. Let's hustle from the first minute on."

And so they went on out. The Crackers didn't look bad in their new road uniforms, a gray with a reddish LECTURE. road uniforms, a gray with a reddish tinge to them. The Crackers got a po-lite handclap when they went out. The time drew on as old time will lite handclap when they went out.

The time drew on as old time will.

The bands were tooting madly, the crowd was yelling its collective heads off, the peanut boys were fighting valiantly with a note of desperation in their voices and all was a regular madhouse when the girls' baseball team, sponsored by the club and called the "Engelettes," John D. Martin, league president, Joe Engel, the two ball teams and some city officials marched behind a band to the flagpole in center field. They stood at attention while Commissioner Eugene M. Bryan, acting mayor, pulled up the American flag. The band started back playing "Dixie," of all things, where have I heard that tune before. The girls' team, the Engelettes, slapped down the field—goosh what a showman this man Engel is—and they reached home plate. Mayor Ed Bass, injured in an elevator falf Monday night at the Patten hotel, was subbed for by Commissioner Eugene M. Bryan and he presented Joe Engel with a gold and silver plaque valued at $1,000, subscribed to by the city officials. It had Joe's picture engraved on it. Then they hauled out a cake and what a cake it was. It was on a table and four men toted it to Joe. That boy can sure cut himself a piece of cake now.

JAMMED FIELD.

JAMMED FIELD.

At 2:45 o'clock the baseball field looked like a small body of land entirely surrounded by close packed humanity. It gave the game all sorts of ground rules and made most any sort of pop fly a sure two-base hit. Sweatof pop fly a sure two-base hit. Sweating policemen, sworn friends and admirers of Joe Engel, kept the crowd in line. The mob down the first base line was shoved back three times. Players back in the deep benches beneath the stands could hardly see the stands as the crowds edged in front of them. Joe Engel has made baseball history for the Class B section of the league and maybe for the league. The Lookouts got a great cheer when they took the field for infield work. A trite description but then that's what happened. They looked like strawberry shortcake with whipped cream poured over them so white were the uniforms and so red the stocking stripes and the bills of their caps.

And let me pause to say that the ing stripes and the bills of their caps.

And let me pause to say that the greatest showman since Charley Frank passed on has appeared in the league. Joe Engel knows how to pull them in. The madhouse broke loose again when Steamboat Johnson, the old steamer himself, with his voice better than ever, announced the batteries with that majestic sweep of his mask and the game was on.

He has been with the American league alone since 1901 and there are few in this land as conversant with the playing code as "The Duke of Natick." Connolly probably knows more firemen than any other American. You see, Tom used to look for congenial company at the local fire halls in the days when the umpires kept themselves more aloof from the ball players. He still pursues this custom.

There is Brick Owens, younger in years, but a big league umpire at intervals for 22 years. He has been with the American league since 1916. Naturally "Brick" acquired his odd sobriquet because of being hit with a brick. That occurred when the big arbiter was officiating in an independent game out at Pittsburg, Kan.

"CATFISH" KLEM. "CATFISH" KLEM.

High among the picturesque characters who enforce the laws of baseball is Bill "Catfish" Klem himself. Probably the greatest ball and strike expert in the business, Klem has been a National leaguer since 1905. A scribe once angrily referred to Klem as "looking like a catfish." That was way back in those days when such uncouth things even appeared in the newspapers, but all along Klem has stuck to the nickname, laughing with the baseball world at what some would consider plain slander.

Bill Dinneen is one of the older unpires. He is 54 and has been in the American lengue since 1910. Dinneen pitched baseball for 15 years and says he still finds himself pitching every game he works. "I know what the batters can hit and what they cannot hit," said the veteran. "Consequently I say to myself, 'If I were pitching I would hand this bird a curve, low and on the outside, etc., etc."

A brother "umps" of Dinneen's is George Hildebrand, an American leaguer of 17 years' experience. He took up the indicator after an injured knee spoiled a career in the Pacific Coast league where he was noted for his speed.

COLORFUL FIGURES.

Three of the better known National league arbiters are Charley Moran, Ernie Quigley and Cy Rigley, Quigley, who has been in the senior loop since 1913, is widely known as a football and basketball official. Rigler has been in and out of the umpiring ranks since 1906 and Moran has been calling them since 1918. "Unele Charley" Moran is the man who coached the "Praying Colonels" of Centre college for a brief but high position in the football world.

Holcomb Checks Opposing Batters as Mates Romp in Opener.

With Holcomb pitching steady baseball and his mates hitting con sistently in the pinches Oglethorpe defeated Birmingham-Southern, 15 to 3, Tuesday at Hermance field in the 3, Tuesday at Hermance field in the first of a two-game series.

Birmingham-Southern has a much better beaseball team than the score indicates and but for the fifth and seventh innings when Carter blew up and Oglethorpe went on a bitting spree the score would have been much closer. Carter was taken out in the seventh and Knapp, a southpaw was pounded hard until he was relieved by Stewart, an outfielder.

The visitors made two fast double plays that killed Oglethorpe ralliss in the fourth and sixth innings, whilloglethorpe made three double killings to speed up the game considerably.

HOLCOMB CLOSE.

HOLCOMB CLOSE.

Holcomb gave up only three hits in seven innings, two of which came in the first when two runs were scored. The other came in the fourth and it was a double that scored another runner. Rabon relieved him in the eighth inning and finished the game, giving the visitors only two hits. A double play ended the game in the ninth inning.

game, giving the visitors only two hits. A double play ended the game in the ninth inning.

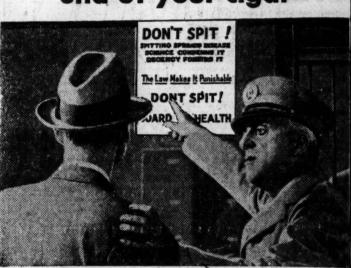

Herrin, Wall, Kimbrell and Holcomb were the hitting stars for the winners. Herrin had a double and two singles. Wall secured three singles, two of those coming in the sevening inning when Oglethorpe batted around. Kimbrell had a double and two singles and Holcomb aided his own game with two doubles. McCullough hit best for the losers with a double and a single.

A walk, a double and a single scored two runs for the visitors in the first inning and the other came on Tate's walk and Cleveland's double.

Oglethorpe came back with one in the first. Bennett walked, went to second on a passed ball and scored on Martin's single. Todd's single, an infield out and Herrin's single accounted for one in the third. Five runs were scored in the fifth. Todd was hit by a pitched ball, Holcomb grounded out, Bennett flied out, Herrin doubled to left, Martin walked, Appling walked, Wall singled, Gardner was safe on an error and Kimbrell singled. Another was added in the sixth on Holcomb's double and Herrih's single. Six more were added in the seventh and the final came in the eighth.

Ready For Fouls. From a blimp Gabby Hartnett, of the Cubs caught a ball dropped 800 feet, and another at 650 feet. Truck Hannah, of the Los Angeles team, caught one of the 650-sinkers. Gabby Street caught one dropped from Wash-ington monument, 504 feet high.

HOOVER DISCUSSES PSYCHOLOGY OF MOB

Yale Daily News Article Says Crowd Has No Mind.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 15 .--Discussing leadership and mob psychology in an article published in the Yale Daily News with official sanction, President Herbert Hoover says that "popular desires are no criteria to the real need."

These desires, he said, "can be determined only by deliberate consideration, by education, by constructive leadership."

"If democracy is to secure its authorities in morals, religion and statesthe president wrote, "it must stimulate leadership from its own mass. Human leadership cannot be replenished by selection like queen bees, by divine right, or bureaucracies, but by the free rise of ability, charac-

Mrs. Booth-Clibborn Continues Services

Mrs. Catherine Booth-Clibborn continued her services in the Atlanta Gospel tabernacle Tuesday night with a discussion based upon the subject of "The Unfaithful Bride."

Taking her text from the second chapter of the Book of Revelation, "Nevertheless, I have somewhat against thee, because those hast left thy first love," the Marechale likened the church to a bride, with Christ as the bridegroom, and called attention to the danger of Christians' lesing their affection for God.

"Adam's fall," she averred, "was falling out of love with God, and falling into love with himself. Salvation is a falling back into love with God. He does not want luke-warm followers. Why, I would rather deal with a crowd of open sinners, than with luke-warm church members. There is a crowd of open sinners than with luke-warm church members. There is more hope for them."

This afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a service for women only, at which time the subject, "The Secret of the Home," will be used. Tonight Mrs. Booth-Clibborn will speak on "The Great Blockade."

MOTHERS' BUILDING PLOT TO BE BROKEN ON BERRY CAMPUS

Mrs. Mary Wadley Raoul Will Officiate April 17

Mrs. Mary Wadley Raoul, of Atlanta, will break ground for the Mothers' building on the Berry school campus, Thursday, April 17, by virtue of the fact that she was the first woman t challenge the state to give $100,000 as a Georgia endowment to the school, and declared herself ready as one of the list of the school, and declared herself ready as one of the school. self ready, as one of the first of one hundred, to give $1,000. Surrounding Mrs. Raoul will be little Miss Ann Eagan and her brother, William Eagan, children of Mrs. Eagan and the late John J. Eagan, the latter having been one of the first trustees of the school, and also gave continuously of himself and his money during his lifetime. Little Miss Eagan unveiled the portrait of Miss Martha Berry at a recent meeting of the Atlanta Berry Circle, the picture being presented to the circle by New York friends, preferring to have their names withheld. Misses Elizabeth Winship Walsh and Emily Frances Walsh, daughters of Mrs. Ann Bates Walsh, will also take part in the ground-breaking ceremony. They are grandchildren of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Winship Bates, who, with her sisters, Mrs. Ernest Wodruff and Mrs. George C. Walters, gave one of the first large sums to the Mothers' building.

The work to build this shrine to American motherhood has gone forward for several years under the direction and perseverance of Mrs. Frank Inman, of Atlanta, president of the Atlanta Martha Berry Circle, who is acting as treasurer of the building fund. The idea to erect this building was born in the hearts of several prominent Atlanta women, but strange was born in the hearts of several prominent Atlanta women, but strange as it seems, not one of the group sponsoring the movement would permit the use of her name, much preferring to remain in the background. It was only under pressure that Mrs. Frank Inman, elected as treasurer of the organization, allowed her name to be mentioned, due to the fact that some reliable and representative woman had to be responsible for the funds collected and therefore her name had to be published.

"Whatever is done as a tribute to American mothers of the future," said Mrs. in the first large sums to the decision "Miss Berry deserves this great honor." The decide and therefore her name had to be published.

Nine hundred students were enrolled on the 12th of September with 900 on the waiting list; 47 per cent of the students have not one dollar in actual money, and the burden of this great deficit falls on the shoulders of Miss Berry. #### New Joan Crawford At Midnight Sunday

Joan Crawford, the hot little "pash" of the drawing rooms, has finally stepped out on the porch in a big way. She acted as though she needed fresh sir. And how she does get it in 'Montana Moon," the vocalizing western with wide-open spaces abounding. Joan is still the hot little "pash," however. Make no mistake. "Montana Moon" is slated for a run a the Capitol theater next week. The engagement is to get off with a bang at a midnight show next Sunday

And "Montana Moon," in which the eminent Alabaman, Mister Johnny Mack Brown, sighs romantically and in the Galahad manner for the fluttering Joan, should please in these days of silver moons, rambling road-this week. All because of the marvelsters and coatless nights.

John portrays a most high-minded and innocent young cowpuncher. Joan is her usual high-society frail. They tangle at John's lonely camp. Eye looks to eye. Heart beats with heart. What a grand thing love is!

Marriage follows with, curiously enough, no loss of love. Joan essays her frolicking path, only to be halter-broken eventually by the stern methods of John, a Petruchio in chaps. A staid enough story, but carried well by the principals.

"Ukulele Ike" Edwards and Benny Rubin offer comedy relief which comes very close to stealing the show. The boys, good people, have what it takes.

Seenically "Mortray Morting as the old grandmother in "Your Uncle Dudley," current comedy offering by the popular production company at the Erlanger.

Miss Palmer has been an audience favorite throughout the Atlanta engagement of the company, but her work this week surpasses anything she has done previously. And the entire company has outdone even their own splendid achievements of the past.

The first matinee of the week, at the usual afternoon bargain prices, tana or Mexico, there is none more beauty-adapted to the camera's eye. See, by all means, "Montana Moon." And bring the girl friend. Inspiration awaits.

ATTENDANCE RECORDS BEING SET AT RIALTO

While exact figures are not available, it now seems certain that all records for attendance for a single attraction at any Atlanta theater are going to be broken before Dr. M. Sayle Taylor concludes his local presentations of "Married Love," at the Rialto. Dr. Taylor is now in his fourth week and for the entire time has appeared before capacity, or nearcapacity, crowds, twice daily.

The longest run of any previous attraction that comes to mind was "Abie's Irish Rose," which showed for seven weeks the first time it came to the old Atlanta theater. Al Joison's first talking picture ran, if memory serves, for four weeks at the Metropolitan. In neither case, however, were the theaters so regularly filled as the Rialto is now.

Dr. Taylor, assisted by Professor Samuel E. Olmstead, physical culture expert, is giving his presentation on sex truths to women only every afternoon this week at 2:30 and on Friday night at 8:30. He speaks to men only every night except Friday at 8:30. In addition, there will be a special presentation for business and professional women on Friday evening at 6 o'clock. No one under 18 is admitted at any time.

"LADIES OF LEISURE" FOR FOX NEXT WEEK

"Ladies of Leisure," the all-talking motion picture drama adapted from David Belasco's stage play, which has created such a sensation and received the plaudits of critics everywhere, comes to the new Fox theater next Monday for a week's engagement.

Probably no picture screened in 1930 has been the subject of such universal acclaim as this startling story of New York life in penthouse apartments, cabarets, yacht and the bearding palaces of a certain type of attractive young women.

A cast which reads like the "Who's Who" in Hollywood interprets the various roles. Barbara Stamwck, capable and charming young stage star, the sophisticated Lowell Sherman and Ralph Graves, who was such a success in "Flight," which played at the Fox about two months ago, take the leading roles. Marie Prevost, Nance O'Neil, George Fawcett, Johnnie Walker and Juliette Compton are in support.

Many home owners report a yearly saving of from $30 to $50 in fuel since buying a Torrid Zone Warm Air Furnace. The special oil-burning model saves even more, and is recommended by all oil burner manufacturers.

Design as much as construction is responsible for this economy. The steel plate, which is hot-riveted and cold-calked to prevent leaking of gas, smoke, or dust, conducts heat more quickly than cast iron and is more durable. But it is the efficient design of the fire-pot and radiator which gets more heat from fuel.

The deep fire-pot insures better combustion. The oversized radiator makes the gases and smoke escaping from the fire-pot travel from 15 to 20 feet before going up the chimney—squeezing from them every last possible bit of heat.

Contending that the resolution would have "the effect of a law" and that it would be "complete reversal" of policy, Cain said congress want that it would take away from the "judicial body"—the interstate commerce commission—the duty congress gave it, to decide what was in the public interest.

"There is nothing revolutionary," interrupted Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, "in saying to an agency congress has created, we think you're wrong and we want to stop you for a while."

"What do you think," Senator Dill, democrat. Washington, asked the witness, "of a congress that sits by while merging through holding companies goes on in defiance of the law?"

Cain maintained that if congress found the commission abused its discretion, redregs lay in the courts.

"But the liw leaves some of them above the court," Dill returned.

Attacking the proposed merging of the Great Northern & North Pacific railroads, Wheeler asserted that the commission had authorized this after the supreme court had declared against it in the northern securities case. This action by the commission, he repeatedly termed "flying in the face of the supreme court."

Two Plans for Obtaining Subscriptions CONTRACTS - Pay No Money! Collect No Money! PREPAID - Collect Cash!

Credits are all you need to win one of the awards and credits are given you for securing renewal and new subscriptions to The Atlanta Constitution. You may get these subscriptions anywhere and from anyone and two plans are offered to you for obtaining them.

You can take subscriptions by contract, whereby the New subscriber signs to take The Constitution for a period of 6 months or 12 months and they pay the carrier each week for the paper. You do not collect any money whatever for these subscriptions.

Or you can take prepaid subscriptions from both Old and New subscribers and they pay in advance.

The Atlanta Constitution's plan of taking ONLY contracts on NEW subscriptions and paid-in-advance on both Old and New makes it fair for all candidates as it precludes any possible chance of an agent or carrier to turn over to a candidate hundreds of OLD subscribers' contracts which would be very unfair to those working for their subscriptions. The subscriptions are verified—bona fide—and the workers receive the rewards.

Man-Made Lightning Bolts Demonstrated at Augusta

Southeastern Division, National Electric Light Association, In Conven-

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 15.—(P)—A machine which creates the effects of natural lightning, to be used in testing transmission lines, was demonstrated here today in its first public showing to delegates of the southeastern division of the National Electric Light Association.

The machine, which takes ordinary city current of a voltage of 110 and steps it up to 250,000, creates a spark which jumps a gap of three feet between porcelain insulators. It is being used to develop lightning protection on power lines. E. W. Beck, Pittsburgh, engineer of the Westinghouse Electric Company, and C. F. Doyse, also of Pittsburgh, builder of the machine, demonstrated its uses. H. S. Harvey, Atlanta, division engineer for Westinghouse, supervised the local showing.

Mr. Beck said hundreds of thousands of dollars damage was done annually by the "surge" from lightning striking transmission lines, and by studying this the company hoped to lessen such damage.

CHICAGO, April 15.—(P)—Fresh downpours bringing relief to drouthstricken grain fields southwest led to a lively setback in wheat prices late today. The extra drop in values was in southwest and west implied that wheat would show improvement in the sections where rains have been received. Closing quotations on wheat were nervous at virtually the day's bottom level, 1 1-4c to 2 1-8c a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 1-4c off to 1-2c up, oats 1-4c to 3-8c down and provisions varying from 5c decline to a like advance.

Collapse of wheat prices toward the close promptly followed word of rain in Oklahoma. Buying power seemed to have exhausted itself in establishing advances carlier, and the market gave way in earnest when selling broadened out on account of news of anotem promote beautiful to the product of the service of the second product of the service of the serv gave way in earnest when selling broadened out on account of news of more moisture.

Further bearish influence was the fact that export demand today for wheat from North America remained of disappointing volume, total purchases for overseas being figured at not more than 500,000 bushels.

Transient strength which developed here early was associated with relative firmness of Liverpool quotations and with assertions that unless further rains were received 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 acres of wheat in Kansas would have only a short crop. Temporarily the market was affected bullishly by reports that a steady export demand for domestic hard winter wheat was in prospect because foreigners preferred this wheat, owing to its high protein content. However, the weather map showed rains had fallen nearly everywhere through the North American grain belt, and many holders of wheat appeared to lose backbone completely after late advices came that threatened to remove drouth altogether as an immediate market influence.

Wet weather, checking field work, tended to strengthen the corn market. There was also buying of corn against selling of wheat to close spreads. Oats sympathized with wheat rather than corn.

Provisions averaged slightly lower.

was evidently regarded by some traders as indicating that the bulk of the remaining short interest in May was prepared to make deliveries on contracts if required, and there also appeared to be some selling of July against buying of new crop months.

The decline brought in more or less covering, but the bulges met increased offerings and the lowest prices of the day were reached in the late trading when July sold at 15.84 and the new October to 14.78. Closing quotations were within a point or two of the lowest, with May showing a premium of 101 points over the new October. compared with a difference of 111 points over the previous day.

With the demand for near months less active, local brokers reported more disposition to sell the later deliveries, on the relatively easy showing of the Liverpool cables and a favorable view of crop progress outside the sections of the southwest which are still supposed to need rain. Realizing was probably promoted by the approach of the Easter holidays and included some undoing of straddles between old and new crop positions.

NEW ORLEANS, April 15.—(P)
Liquidation of the May position in advance of first notice day, evening up for over the triple holiday at the end of the week and lower Liverpool cables all tended to force cotton prices to lower levels today and at the lowest values showed recessions of about $1.50 a bale from the previous close. July declined to 15.53 and closed at 15.57, or 27 points net lower. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 21 to 28 points.

Liverpool cables were 4 to 5 points worse than due and influenced enough early offerings to carry initial transactions to levels 9 to 15 points below yesterday's close. With old crop months showing the maximum decline. Some covering developed right after the start and prices rallied 4 to 7 points from the initial lows.

This demand seemed satisfied at the moderate recovery and the market weakened again under liquidation of near months gradually trading off to 15.55 for May; 15.62 for July, and 14.86 for October, or 18 to 22 points down from the previous close.

The market continued to ease in late trading under continued liquidation, reaching the lowest of the day right near the end on reports of rains in the western drought section. May sold off to 15.45, July 15.53 and October to 14.77, or 27 to 32 points net down. Some covering was encountered and last prices were 4 to 6 points above the lowest.

NEW YORK, April 15.—The abrupt upturn of the market following the announcement of a four-cent reduction in the price of copper can be explained only by a technical strength developed by the aggressive short selling of those holding a bearish view during the past few weeks.

Nothing in the day's news was susceptible to buillsh interpretation. On the contrary, in addition to the copper price cut, latest car londing figures, those for the week sended April 12, continue to reflect a substantial decline in shipment of goods as compared with the previous week.

NOTHING WINDER BOSENIA & CO. NEW ORLEANS, April 1b.—Lower cables than due and some further showers in parts of the southwest influenced cotton market to a lower price level today.

Liverpool cables: "Local, continental and Rombay liquidation and uncovering of stops. Manchester reports: "Extensive business in Egyptian for shipment to America. Home trade quieter. Restricted cloth business outlet generally. Egypt's locust menace has been considerably lessened as result of a stern battle swaged during the past week."

Local weather bureau reported: "Temperatures were mostly 6 to 16 degrees above normal in the northern districts and normal to 9 degrees above in the southr Mostly light showers fell in Oklahoma and north central Texas and a few localities in the north central portion of the cotton belt."

NEW YORK, April 15.—(P)—An ax that had been hanging over stocks for some time finally dropped today, but found the market well armored. The long expected reduction in copper prices appeared and the market sold off substantially for a time, only to accomplish brisk recovery in the last hour which more than cancelled the day's losses.

The cut from 18 to 14 cents a pound in copper, while reducing the red metal to the lowest level in more than a year, is expected to end the consumers' buying strike and help to reduce the heavy stocks of the metal that have been piling up in recent months. ItyINGSTON & CO.

NEW YORK, April 15.—The midday recovery in prices was cancelled by renawed heaviness before the close. However, losses in garal were only fractional and there were a substantial number of good sized gains scattered throughout the list. Action of the copper stocks in the face of an unexpectedly large slash of 4 cents a pound in the price of domestic copper was impressive. Anaconda closed unchanged, Kennecott lost only 1-4 of a point and American Smelting showed a fractional rail. The copper group was also steady on Saturday when a very poor statistical report for the month of March was given out. Whatever the future trend of these issues may be, they appear well liquidated at the moment, and it is hardly a time to consider them as short sales. There was specialized strength in the utilities as usual. Standard Gas. American and Foreign Power, Electric Power and Light stood out. NEW YORK, April 15.—(P)—It was unofficially reported in Wall Street today that the United Light & Power Co., of Chicago, holding company for a number of public utility companies operating in the middlewest and south, plans to enter the natural gas field in an extensive way.

The report stated that the American Light & Traction Co., 55 per cent of the stock of which is owned by United Light & Power, has purchased properties in natural gas fields in Kansas and rights of way for pipe lines. It was said that the plans call for the immediate extension of lines to serve Omaha and Lincoln, Neb., and eventually to cover a larger area in that state as well as in Kansas, Missouri and Iowa.

NEW YORK, April 15—CP)—Plans for a merger of Phelps, Dodge Corporation and Calumet & Arizona Mining Company are under discussion at the present time, it was learned today coincident with an announcement that Louis & Cates had resigned as vice president of the Utah Copper Company to accept the presidency of Phelps, Dodge.

Reports that the merger had been concluded were denied at the Phelps, Dodge offices where it was said that although the transaction was "in the making" it had not yet been completed. Engineers of the two companies are now examining the properties with a view to determining the advantages of a merger.

Tendered Utility Leaders

BY STANLEY W. PRENOSIL,

NEW YORK, April 15.—(P)—
Price movements on the New York curb market continued to show marked irregularity today but in view of the unsettlement created by the drastic cut in the price of copper, operators for the advance expressed the opinion that the market gave a good account of itself. There were few points of acute weakness, although many issues showed moderate declines as a result of rather heavy profit taking. Trading was only moderately heavy in volume, the day's sales falling below 1,300,000 shares.

Strong buying support again developed for several of the leading public utilities. Electric Bond & Share was marked above 115 to a new high level for the year, showing a net gain of about 2 points. Duke Power soared to a new high at 209 and then eased to 204 3-4, up 11 points. American

Investing in Electric Power

ROSS revenues of the electric light and T power industry in the United States have increased each year during the last decade. The annual rate of increase has varied from 7% to 18%, and the average per year has been 10.8%. This industry deals in a necessary commodity for which the demand is but moderately affected by periodical business declines. The uses for electricity are constantly broadening and distribution is constantly widening. More people are buying electricity, and the average consumer is buying more of it.

United Founders Corporation has important investments in the electric light and power industry and other divisions of the public utility field. Through its principal utility investments its interests extend to electric power and light, gas, telephone, water or transportation service furnished to communities in forty states of the Union. With the increasing population and widening use of electricity and other services, its investments in the public utility field should ultimately enhance greatly in value.

United Founders Corporation is also extensively interested in other fields of investments, and holds a diversified portfolio of securities. Through its controlling interest in American Founders Corporation it commands the service of the extensive economic, analytical and research organization developed by American Founders. Coupled with this organization are extensive banking and investment connections, which contribute to the strong position of United Founders Corporation as an institution investing for the long pull.

SAVING is a pleasure

In this day and time, saving money is a difficult task, but by the plan of the Southern Thrift Foundation saving money is a pleasure. There is practically no chance for failure. You simply decide how much money you would like to have —open a savings account in one of the leading National Banks in Atlanta—and begin saving toward the goal you have set. The amounts you deposit each month vary according to the total amount you have decided to save. They may be large or small, depending upon your desires.

Now to make the plan effective even when you are sick or hurt—the Southern Thrift Foundation makes your regular monthly deposits for you just as long as you are disabled and you never have to pay the money back. Should you die before you reach your goal—the Southern Thrift Foundation will pay your family the full amount you had set out to save and in addition you will also receive the amount standing to your credit in the savings bank.

You can't lose and it's a real opportunity to get ahead in spite of most anything that could

Your savings bank pass-book is always in your possession. You make your own deposits and the money standing to your credit is always at your disposal.

Information of this remarkable plan will be gladly mailed you without obligation. Write or phone today—and get started on this road to financial independence.

TUESDAY AIR MAIL.

On April 16, 1925, five years ago today, Candler field came into being. On that day, which now has come to be regarded as an epochal one, the aviation committee of city council, after some days of negotiations with the Candler family, signed a lease for the property, which it since has purchased, and immediately appropriated the munificent sum of $5,000 to be expended for the "building of a landing field." After poring over a topographical map of the extremely rough terrain which was contained inside the track of the old Atlanta Speedway, the local pioneers in aviation advancement selected a triangular tract which provided three runways, runvancement selected a triangular tract which provided three runways, running along the sides of the triangle, each of 1,500 feet. This first "landing field" was at the southern end of the oval and the center of operations was just across the track from the present building of the Atlanta Aircraft Corporation. For the $5,000 which the city fathers were able to find, there was erected a tiny shop and comfort station and the three runways were put in some sort of condition.
